Troy University Strategic Plan

<< back Edit Strategic Initiative

Initiative Number: 3 Title: 3. Internationalization

Initiative Percentage:

Description: Troy University has progressively built an international reputation over the last forty years by offering programs in other countries and having students from other countries come to its campus at Troy.

Emphasis will be on building an international perspective on all we do for all our students. At the same time every college will develop study abroad programs for its students. This type of international outreach also means economic development for Alabama through partnering with the Alabama Development Office as they visit other states and nations. A Center for Chinese Culture and Language will be a centerpiece of this effort.

We can do these things because our reputation around the world as an effective educational enterprise is excellent. Our international partnerships mean more exposure for our citizens as well as our students. As the result of a deliberate international perspective, education of international students, building our national campuses and sites, and having our Alabama students go to international locations to expand their worldview, TROY will be second to none in its global perspective. Troy University will be known as "America's International University" by 2010. To make this happen the following strategic objectives must be addressed:
