TROY UNIVERSITY

Transferring to TROY

Transferring . . .

. . . a new campus . . . new friends. It's important that you find the right school . . .

Troy University is a student service-oriented institution where the faculty, staff and students pride themselves on being friendly and helpful.

TROY is much more than a friendly place; it is a place where you can earn a quality education. Four-year baccalaureate degrees are available in more than seventy academic areas.

Eligibility

Generally, any student whose GPA is 2.0 or higher on the 4.0 scale and who is eligible for readmission at the last school attended is eligible for admission to TROY. Transfer students who have completed fewer than 24 semester hours of college work must meet the requirements for beginning freshmen.

Transfer students who do not meet the unconditional admission requirements and have no less than 1.7 on the 4.0 scale may be considered for conditional status. Under this program, the student may enroll for no more than 13 hours per semester and must maintain a C average on the first 20 hours attempted.

Application

The admissions process at TROY is as follows:

- submit a completed application, the $30 application fee,
- a completed medical history form,
- on-campus or off-campus housing forms, and
- an official copy of your transcripts from each institution you have previously attended. If you are presently attending another school, please request a final transcript of your college work to be sent to TROY at the end of your last term of enrollment.

TROY accepts transfer students at the beginning of each academic term. You will need to apply as far in advance as possible for the semester you wish to attend TROY. Fall semester begins the middle of August, Spring semester begins the beginning of January, and Summer semester begins the middle of May.

Financial Aid

Financial assistance is awarded annually, beginning with each Fall semester. If you intend to apply for financial aid at TROY, please note that students who apply for such aid prior to May 1 each year will be given preference for available funds. Students applying after May 1 will receive assistance if funds are still available.

Housing

Students who plan to live on campus are advised to submit a housing application as early as possible – even before all admissions requirements have been met – especially for fall semester.

Transfer Credits

Each course taken at another institution will be matched, whenever possible, with courses in TROY's curriculum, and you will be awarded credit for those courses. Other courses may qualify as elective credits. Troy University will accept up to 60 hours of nontraditional college credit from sources such as CLEP, USAFI, and military experience.
