Challenge them. Encourage them. Love them.

Help them get ahead in college this summer.

Share the wisdom of getting ahead. This summer let your son or daughter know they can earn transferable semester credits in their spare time from Troy University.

Here on the Montgomery Campus they simply take a couple of classes over a period of 8 weeks in their spare time, and the semester credits transfer to their school in the fall. There’s never been a better way to get ahead. So let them enjoy the summer just like always, while helping advance their education.

Classes start May 23. Act now.
