Once you’ve determined the Masters at Work program is too good to pass up, call us. The local coordinator will meet with you and others to determine a curriculum.

We will hold information sessions on-site to discuss the program options and details. A typical Peer Program class has a minimum of 20 and a maximum of 35 students. Once the class is full, a convenient location is chosen and a curriculum is tailored to fit you and your fellow students, your peers. In as little as a year’s time, students can complete the program and graduate. New classes start every 10 weeks.

To be admitted to a Troy University master’s degree programs, students must have a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited institution.

- Submit your Admission Application to XXXXX Troy, AL or apply online at troy.edu.
- Send $00 Application Fee to XXXXX Troy, AL.
- Request all prior institutions to send official transcripts.
- Submit official Graduate Admission test score (GRE, GMAT or MAT).
- Submit letter of recommendation

Depending on the curriculum, a good estimate for most degree programs is:

- Tuition: $1,620 per term for two courses
- Books: $200 per term
- Technology Fee: $30 per term
- Other fees (if applicable): drop/withdrawal fees, intent-to-graduate fees
- Financial aid is available for students who qualify (Tuition and Fees are subject to change as the University deems necessary.)
A master’s degree represents the key that opens the door to advancement and into leadership and management positions. And now, there is a program to help balance the requirements of full-time employment, while elevating opportunities for advancement.

Troy University’s Masters at Work program offers the benefits of obtaining a master’s degree in a convenient location. The TROY Master’s at Work program brings the education to you. Professors teach classes after work, at your place of work. At night, after work, online and in a few intense weekend sessions, in as little as one year, students will be able to earn a master’s degree.

There has never been a better time or more convenient way to advance your education and career. The Masters at Work program offers a convenient, lifestyle-compatible way to earn a master’s degree through the TROY Peer Program structure of learning.

With Troy University’s Peer Program, employees finish each work each day, and then seamlessly, become students together, right at the office. Classes are conveniently taught at your school or place of business. Additional supporting online classes can be taken 24/7.

From enrollment to graduation, Peer Program students move through the degree program as a group, which encourages a collaborative and supportive learning environment. The program develops long-lasting relationships that extend far beyond the classroom walls and provides unique opportunities for networking and team building.

Troy University’s Masters at Work Program

Take Classes at Work

Degree Programs Include:

- Master of Science in Management
- Master of Science in Human Resource Management
- Master of Business Administration
- Master of Science in Education
- Master of Science Program in Criminal Justice
- Master of Science Counseling and Psychology
- Master of Public Administration
- Master of Science in Post Secondary Education

Troy University’s Master of Science in Criminal Justice

The Master of Science degree in Criminal Justice is designed to broaden and enhance each student’s ability to understand, analyze and evaluate issues that confront the American criminal justice system.

Brochure.indd   2

11/5/07   9:06:45 AM